

Unique to Central Australia

BushWok Cooking Parties®

Are you looking for a unique and distinctly Central Australian social event that provides great theatre, and is guaranteed to add interest and novelty to your entertainment program in Alice Springs? An event that provides a facilitated down-to-earth outdoor cooking activity that will:

- Promote team-work among participants,
- Enhance group problem-solving skills,
- Lower barriers and help build new relationships,
- Impart new skills to add to already acquired ones,
- Create long-term bonding through shared memories of a fun-filled event, and
- Result in a tasty smorgasbord for all to enjoy?

BushWok Cooking Parties®
provide all this, and more!!

BushWok Cooking Parties® are unique to Central Australia, highly engaging, entertaining and guaranteed to enhance interaction, networking, collaboration and bonding amongst your group, making your overall program a social triumph.

BushWok Cooking Parties® for between 20 and 200 participants are facilitated cooking events conducted outdoors enabling your group to fully enjoy our beautiful Centralian evening skies. All cooking equipment and recipe ingredients are provided. Participants become the cooks, the waiters and the guests all in the same night, and thoroughly enjoy themselves while doing so.

Outback Iron Chefs: A very special cooking challenge has been held on the banks of the Todd River in Alice Springs. A field of 50 competitors were given a wood-fired empty flour drum to cook on, a wok and a few basic ingredients and told to whip up a nutritious meal for the inaugural Outback Iron Chef Challenge.
